Will this even be read? Does The Tunney Act matter anymore? Each day that this case lingers on, I lose more and more faith in my government. I work hard, and I'm a contributing member in my community. I'm a good citizen. I have no words, other than please do the right thing. Please punish Microsoft. They've hurt many people over the years. They've hurt a lot of companies that had great technological advances to share with us. But we'll never see what those companies could've offered, and we'll never know what could've been. Who knows what great technological advancement could've helped others and contributed to our great nation. Not us. Microsoft crushed anyone who got in their way. Oh well, I know this does no good. Thanks for letting me vent. Enjoy all the money that microsoft is giving ya while you can. The lawyers, judges, press; everyone is getting something from them except the people they hurt. Please note that all great empires do eventually come to an end.

Thanks,
Pete Aven

(I realize you probably don't care, but in case you do, I just thought my full name and a phone number makes me seem more real. Your probably getting all sorts of complaints from spunkbuster429@aol.com and all. Good luck sorting through this drama. How much are you getting paid? Remember to thank microsoft at the end of the day. Without the case you wouldn't have to read this...

Do You Yahoo!?
Great stuff seeing new owners in Yahoo! Auctions!
